Writing Your Ethical Will (Zoom Workshop)

Tuesday, November 30 from 7:00 to 8:00 pm
Tuesday, December 7 from 7:00 to 8:00 pm

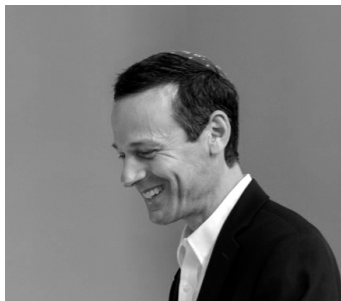

When we die, we leave a legacy that includes the accumulated financial and material aspects of how we've lived. There are, of course, legal wills and other formal documents to guide that conveyance. For many of us, however, that is only part of what we want to bestow upon our loved ones, our dearest friends, cherished colleagues, or communities. What about the spiritual gifts we'd like to pass along, the wisdom and life learnings we've accumulated, the hopes and prayers we harbor for others?

This two-part workshop with Rabbi Natan Fenner of the Bay Area Jewish Healing Center offers us the opportunity and support to:

- Read a sampling of historical and contemporary ethical wills
- Contemplate our own values and our desires for those who live on after us
- Begin writing our own ethical wills
