Pledge to the Earth

by Aline D. Wolf

As Unitarian Universalists we promise to be good to the earth and to all life on this planet—all growing things, animals, and all races of people. We promise to protect all life on this planet and live in harmony with nature.

Pledge to the Earth.

I promise to be good to the earth.

And to all life on this planet—

All growing things, all kinds of animals,

And all races of people.

I promise to protect all life on our planet,

To live in harmony with nature,

And to share everything fairly,

So that all people can live with one another.

In good health and in peace.

Wondering Questions:

I wonder if you have ever seen any of this before?

I wonder which part of this story is the most important?

I wonder which part of this story you liked the best?

I wonder if you've ever taken a pledge or made a promise?

I wonder what it feels like to make a promise to the earth?

I wonder how we can protect all living things?

I wonder how we can live in harmony?

I wonder how we can share things fairly?

I wonder where you are in this story?

I wonder if there is a part of the story that we could leave out and still have a story?

I wonder if this lesson reminds you of any of our Unitarian Universalist Promises?
