

Aniko Kiezel

Aniko Kiezel was born in Baja, Hungary and lived in Belgium, Montreal, and Sacramento before settling in Los Angeles. She relocated to Sacramento over 14 years ago where she stepped behind the camera full time.

Aniko is a talented freelance photographer who has been a monthly contributor to Inside Sacramento magazine for over a decade. Her work has also been featured in a variety of publications, including Sacramento Magazine, Edible, Comstock, and Sactown. In addition to her editorial contributions, Aniko works with personal clients, providing photography services for website and marketing content, portraits, events, and special occasions.

Running her own studio, Aniko specializes in capturing portraits and pursuing personal projects for commissions, art shows, and galleries. With extensive experience as a print producer in Los Angeles within the entertainment industry and advertising agencies, she transitioned to full-time photography in Sacramento.

During her career in Los Angeles, Aniko worked at Paramount Studios as a senior print producer on over 70 films, creating promotional materials for major feature films such as Star Trek, The Addams Family, Forrest Gump, Patriot Games, and Clear and Present Danger. She also gained valuable experience in Hong Kong supervising The Workbook, a visual reference book of photographers and illustrators, where she oversaw press checks and printing supervision. At Kastner & Partners in Santa Monica, she managed innovative advertising campaigns for Red Bull that included large-scale out-of-the-box advertising and marketing, books, and special event packages.

Her fine arts photography are printed on textured Giclee surfaces, printed large format and cropped without borders, and displayed like paintings.

Her expertise as an art director and print producer significantly enriches her photography, enhancing both the quality of her final prints and the way they are presented as her completed artwork.
